Frequently Asked Questions

Question: I applied last semester and wasn't accepted. Can I apply again?

Answer: Yes.

Question: I applied last semester and wasn't accepted, but will be re-applying the next application cycle. Do I need to resubmit my application?

Answer: Yes. If you have previously applied, you must submit an updated application packet.

Question: I'm re-applying to the program. Can I use the same letters of recommendation from a previous application?

Answer: Yes. If you're previously applied, you can use the same letters of recommendation. Please indicate that when submitting your application packet.

Question: On the non-faculty letter of recommendation form, what does the recommender need to submit?

Answer: The recommender must complete the form listed on the BCF website. They also welcome to include a formal letter of recommendation.

Question: I'm an incoming MSF student and new to Babson. I don't have a Babson faculty letter of recommendation. What should I do?

Answer: Since you are new to Babson, please submit a letter of recommendation from faculty at your previous college or university. Preferably, the professor would be from a finance or accounting course.

Question: I'm studying abroad this semester. Can I still apply?

Answer: Yes. If you're studying abroad, you can still apply for the program. Please note that the application must be submitted on time and interviews will be conducted via WebEx.

Question: Is there flexibility on the deadline?

Answer: No. All application materials must be submitted at the deadline, no exceptions.
