Jurrien Timmer

Jurrien Timmer is the Director of Global Macro for Fidelity Investments and co-portfolio manager of the Fidelity Global Strategies Fund and the Fidelity Tactical Strategies Fund.

Mr. Timmer has more than 25 years experience in the investment world and is a 17 year veteran at Fidelity, America’s largest mutual fund company, the No. 1 provider of workplace retirement savings plans and a leading online brokerage firm.

He plays a key role in Fidelity’s Global Asset Allocation group, where he specializes in global macro strategy and tactical asset allocation. As an investment strategist and portfolio manager, his work spans multiple time frames and includes macro-economic, technical, and quantitative disciplines.

Mr. Timmer’s research is widely used by Fidelity’s portfolio managers and analysts. In addition to this internal role, he is also a spokesman on investment matters to Fidelity’s clients and associates.

Mr. Timmer joined Fidelity in 1995 as a technical research analyst. In 1998, he became the market strategist within Fidelity Management and Research Company. In this role, he became involved with Fidelity’s Chart Room. Mr. Timmer joined the Asset Allocation group in September 2005.

Since November 2007, Mr. Timmer has put his experience as an investment strategist to work as the portfolio manager of the Fidelity Global Strategies Fund. This is an “open mandate” asset allocation fund that consists of both Fidelity mutual funds and ETFs. The fund is managed using the same top-down holistic approach that drives his research. In April of 2011, the Fidelity Tactical Strategies Fund was launched for Canadian investors.

Mr. Timmer received a Bachelor of Science degree in finance from Babson College in Wellesley, Massachusetts, in 1985. He was born and raised as a Dutch citizen in Aruba, but has been living in the United States all of his adult life. He became a United States citizen in 2002.
