What to Expect for Graduate Student Clubs

Graduate Student Life and Leadership is committed to helping club leaders continue club operations and programming and providing a robust student life experience for all grad students.

Remote Meetings and Events:

In order to ensure that all graduate students can participate in club activities we strongly encourage all clubs to plan virtual events. Large scale programs will need to be reimagined as virtual ones. Events with guest speakers are also encouraged to be held in a virtual format.

Graduate Student Life and Leadership can help facilitate remote events through WebEx and Zoom.

In Person Meeting and Events Guidelines:

During the fall semester space on campus cannot be reserved for events and activities. Grad clubs may host limited off-campus events if they are approved in advance by GLL. All in-person events must meet the following criteria, which have been developed in alignment with Babson, local, and state guidelines:

- Event attendance may not exceed 10 people
- All events must adhere to social distancing guidelines
- Masks must be worn during all meetings and events
- All events require advanced registration and attendance tracking through Eventbrite. The attendance report must be submitted to Graduate Student Life and Leadership no later than 24 hours after your event is held
- If ordering food you may only order individually packaged catering. No shared food sources such as pizza or other buffets will be permitted
- Any visitors to campus must be registered to visit through Public Safety in advance

Please reach out to GLL and the GSC for support on how to prepare for club operations this fall and ideate about ways to hold events and programs this semester.

There will be a training for club leaders on:

- Tuesday August 18 at 6:00 PM ET
- Tuesday September 29 at 12:00 PM ET

Let’s Work together so we can Stay Together

Graduate student clubs are a vital part of our campus community and Graduate Student Life and Leadership is here to help guide and support your club. Please contact us with any questions.

Graduate Student Life and Leadership
GradLL@babson.edu