FINAL EXAM CONFLICT FORM

For undergraduate students, a final exam conflict occurs if two exams are scheduled at the same time or a student has more than 2 exams scheduled during one calendar day. For graduate students, a final exam conflict occurs if two exams are scheduled at the same time or if a student has more than six hours of exams scheduled during one calendar day.

The Registrar's Office will reschedule one of your exams and notify students via e-mail of the new date, time, and location. Final Exam Conflict forms must be submitted at least one week before the exam period begins or the exams may not be able to be rescheduled. Students may have to take an incomplete grade in one of the courses.

For an excuse from an exam that is not a final exam scheduling conflict (as noted above), undergraduate students should contact the Office of Student Advising and Success and graduate students should contact the Graduate Academic Services Office.

Complete the information below. Enter the final exam information for the courses that create the conflict. Submit the completed Final Exam Conflict Form to Shannon Paquette in the Registrar's Office via email (spaquette1@babson.edu).
