¹ This course will count as one of your two science-based concentration course requirements.

² Students should consult their Education Abroad Advisor or Class Dean to learn about the possibility of completing a concentration course while studying abroad. Please check the availability of coursework abroad before committing to a particular program, as course offerings will vary by program and semester.

³ One Concentration course should be Humanities-based. Please refer to the concentration information above for guidelines on specific courses to complete this requirement.

⁴ Students may choose to take ENV 4600 Climate Change Politics and Policy, which will satisfy their Advanced Liberal Arts Req. Seminar course and the Humanities-based concentration course. If this option is elected, please ensure that you complete the total 16 credits of Advanced Liberal Arts coursework (x6xx) required to complete a Babson undergraduate degree.
